From Ezhuthani to Pen

In the olden days, people painted pictures on rocks and clay pots. Later, they made scratches on rocks.

Then, they carved letters as symbols on clay pots using sharp iron tools.

Then, they started writing 'Tamizhi' scripts in caves using sharp tools.

Later, they began writing on olaisuvadi using a sharp-pointed ezhuthani.

Later, they dipped bird feathers in ink and wrote on cloth.

After that, they filled pens with ink and wrote on paper.

Currently, touch screen pens are also in use.

Did You Know?

In Tamil Nadu, cave and rock paintings have been found in places like Keezhvalai, Karikaiyur, Kodanthur, Mayiladumparai, Sittannavasal and Mallappadi.